What makes GLCS unique

- ▶ GLCS has been providing support, information and resources to the West Australian community for over 30 years. In fact, we are the longest running organisation of our kind in the Southern Hemisphere!
- ▶ We are WA's main community based gay and lesbian service provider. Our key focus is providing essential services to the community, including our crucial peer counselling telephone line and education services.

Counselling at GLCS

- ▶ Our counselling services allows people to explore their sexuality as it relates to them, without judgement or prejudice. We help clients with a range of issues, including coming out, as well as more general issues, such as relationship problems.
- ▶ Our telephone lines are voluntarily staffed Monday to Friday, from 7pm to 10pm and respond to calls on a vast number of issues. This service is often the first point of contact for many people coming to terms with their sexuality.

Training at GLCS

- ▶ Our education and training services help organisations tackle homophobia – and make them queer friendly. Our award winning Opening Closets training has now gained international recognition for the quality of its educational content.
- ▶ If you would like staff at your workplace to receive training, please contact GLCS on 9486 9855 for further information.

Why your membership is important

- ▶ As a not-for-profit community organisation, GLCS is only as strong as our members and volunteers. Financed primarily through fundraising, donations, grants and memberships – it really does mean that every member counts.
- ▶ Your support can make a huge difference – whether as a general member being kept informed on our community activities or taking a more direct active role – for example, through being a volunteer telephone counsellor.

How to pay GLCS

- ▶ Payment can be made in cash, by cheque or by direct deposit to:
